Vijay Sarma - 2010 Toronto Mayor Candidate

1512-C Dundas Street West, Toronto, Ontario, M6K 1T5

Vijay.Sarma@gmail.com | 647-857-5755 | <http://WhatYouWantToBelieveIn.com>

Sometimes I ask people who they admire. I think it can help us live in a world worth admiring and working to improve it. Sometimes I get a sports star or celebrity. Sometimes historical figures. Sometimes others. Sometimes no answer. Many people think there aren't people worth admiring, at least not the way we used to. But, it's not too late to find some.

Below are people I admire in Toronto. Hopefully others can at least appreciate their work. This also gives voters an idea of how my opinions were formed and why they might be different from other candidates. No two people agree on everything all the time, so I don't agree with everything they say, but I still admire what they say and do and I hope you do too.

Warm regards,

Vijay

The Chairman Emeritus of Toronto Truth who's spent the last 12 years putting over $1 million in the pockets of Toronto's homeless years while sharing all the truth he can find. Victor's our best bet to get good news to improve our health, wealth and relationships, plus some good karma by giving $2 to the homeless to get it.

Barrie Zwicker, Professor, TV Host, Author "The Great Conspiracy"

On Vision TV, Barrie was one of the first journalists in the world to question the official story of the 9/11 attacks, something most of us now do (while the TV mostly ignores it). He helped organize the second international inquiry into them in Toronto in 2004. His accolades over a distinguished career go on and on.

Ian Woods, Publisher, "Global Outlook Magazine"

Many deserve credit, but Ian is a big reason why many in Toronto get it, or know how the people behind globalization affect us and what we can do about it. His massive magazines with great articles and where to order hundreds of books and dvd's on 9/11 Truth, health, money and more gave us a great chance to.

Sydney White, Professor, "Studies in Propaganda" (U of T)

A fiery speaker and great teacher, Sydney has been a fixture on the scene for years while hosting classes on a variety of world issues at University of Toronto, speaking at rallies, advising young and old alike and proving that we might be in a better mood if we're mad about the right things. Her course can be found at:

Terry Burrows, Project Coordinator, "Skeptics Inquiry for Truth (SIFT)"

A founding member of SIFT, Terry along with Norman Thackeray and others help give younger Toronto truth seekers a sense of our history and this "conspiracy" stuff more credibility. They're nice, normal, Canadian old white guys who just happen to be able to handle it well. Terry's recent G20 provocateur expose is below.

Dan Dicks, Journalist, Filmmaker, Owner of "Press For Truth"

One of the nicest and most normal guys you'll meet has a tattoo of a giant exploding pyramid on his arm. Dan learned who "they" are years ago, researched it, and now owns one of the most respected indie media companies in Toronto. Their latest film is called "United We Fall" and they're hard at work on a G20 expose.

Patrick Whyte, Owner of the "Conspiracy Culture" Book, DVD and More Store

After partying in the underground rave scene, Patrick and I re-connected years later and discovered we both got older, more mature and into figuring out how we can share the truth we all need to know with our fellow Canadians. His beautiful store on Queen Street is admired by his customers and the media. Check it out.
